COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS PLACES FOR FIRE PLUGS

BRICK VENEER TABOOED

The committee consists of W. R. Gaut, Dr. A. O. Davis and Oscar Linn. Changes in the locations of plugs were recommended as follows: From McKean avenue between First and Second streets to Fallowfield avenue and Second street, from Meadow avenue between Second and Third streets to Meadow avenue and Second street, from Shady avenue between Second and Third streets to Shady avenue and Third street.

The ordinance committee made a report on their investigations of the matter of erecting brick veneered buildings in the fire limits, it being to the effect that according to the ordinance the building of such structures is prohibited According to the ordinance as stated a few days ago in the Mail all sidewalks of buildings in the fire limits must be of some incombustible material. On the ordinance committee are Councilmen W. H. Calvert, C. O. Frye and Charles Schmeiler.

A communication was read from Supt A. G. Mitchell of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad to the effect that radical changes are contemplated in the passenger depot at Charleroi and that to install toilet accommodations in the present station as requested by council would only be to incur needless expense.

Three members of the school board Dr. T. M. Faddis, George B. Nealon and Ira L Nickeson were present and with Harvey Parsons representing his father ex Tax Collector B. L. Parsons took up jointly with council the 1907 tax exoneration list.

WATER COMPANY FINDS IT IS LOSING WATER

The Monessen Water Co., has lately been conducting a series of experiments or tests at night to ascertain if the excessive consumption of water was occurring in any one district of the town. It was found that during the night hours from midnight to 5 o'clock in the morning the town was using water at a rate in excess of one million gallons per 24 hours. During these hours the consumption should be very light and it was thought for a time that a leak existed in some part of the pipe system. As a result a general inspection of the pipe system has been ordered.

Opening of Campaign in Charleroi Will be Notable Event According to Present Indications.

When the Republican State campaign opens in Charleroi on September 3, the occasion will be a notable one and besides the nominees for the various state offices will be present United States Senators Bose Penrose and George T. Oliver, according to the Philadelphia Star, which quotes State Chairman Henry F. Walton to the effect. The Star says:

"Congressman John M. Reynolds of Bedford, nominee for Lieutenant Governor; Henry Houck, of Lebanon, renominated for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Charles F. Wright of Susquehanna, nominee for State Treasurer, will be on hand and deliver addresses.

"United States Senator Penrose, who will have returned from his vacation in the Far West by that time, will be present as will also his colleague, United States Senator George T. Oliver. It is understood that speeches will be made by both Senators.

"Congressman James Francis Burke, of Allegheny county, and other well known speakers of the western part of the State, will participate in the oratorial program and the other features will be impressive as well as enjoyable."

ROAD BONDS NOT WANTED

Poor Outlook for the Disposal of County's Last Issue.

The outlook for the disposal of Washington county's issue of $100,000 4 per cent road improvement bonds is decidedly poor. After the issue had been offered to all the bonding companies of the county, with no takers, the plan of sale to individuals was decided upon. Circulars were sent out on June 23 to about 700 monied men of the county, the bonds being offered singly or collectively, but only two inquiries were received. The bonds are in the denomination of $1,000.

A state law fixes the interest of road bonds at 4 per cent and subject to state tax, making the interest to the investor 36 per cent. There is no fixed rate of interest in other bonds.

Unless the road bonds are disposed of by January the issue will be invalid. This will practically tie up further road improvement for another year, as the law requires that the money must be in sight before any contracts are let.

The present road improvements are being carried on with the fund created by the halfmill of road tax levied. The fund will be sufficient to complete the work on hand.

Must Put Signal Lights on Bridge

Piers of Elizabeth Bridge Must be Equipped With Lanterns.

New signal lights have been put on the river bridge at Elizabeth. Th regulations of the War Department require that red lights be displayed on piers and a green light over the middle of the channel span at night. Heretofore this has been done by one such light over each required place, these being set high above the bridge floor, so they could be seen ascending and descending the river. New orders required that two sets be displayed, on the upstream and down stream side respectively, and this has been don the lights being at the level of the bridge floor. They are of incandescent electric lights, shinning through glass of the required colors.

EPISCOPALS CHAMPIONS OF LEAGUE

Win Final Game With Methodists and Cinch Pennant.

MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

By winning their last regular game last night from the Methodists the Episcopals established themselves in first place, and are the pennant winners of the Charleroi Church Baseball league with the Catholic standing second, and the Christians third. There is a protested game to be decided yet between the Lutherans and the Episcopals to be acted upon shortly by the commission and it may have to be played off, but whatever the result may be it cannot effect the standing of the first three clubs.

The position of the five teams now occupy fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth positions is still undecided. The Lutherans and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians have a game to play Monday, and it can mean two things. If the Lutherans win, they will be tied with the Methodists for third place, and the Washington Avenues will be tied with the Baptists and First Presbyterians for sixth place. If the Washington Avenues win it will tie them and the Lutherans for fifth place. The Baptists and the First Presbyterians are at present tied for seventh place, with both having finished the scheduled season.

President Jesse K. Johnston of the league this morning in reviewing the conditions of the league said that he thought it had been very successful, and while some mistakes have been made, they may be profited by managing for the next season. President Johnston said he did not care to again be president of the league.

A meeting of the managers has been called for Tuesday evening, it is expected at the Charleroi Savings and Trust company. At this time will be taken up the report of the treasurer, and whatever other business might come up.

Choosing Ones Work

This matter of choosing one's life work is one of the severest tasks a person has to meet says the Omaha Bee. Many men do not find their spheres of greatest usefulness until middle age, while others never find them. Education ought to help one to find his true sphere. The great difficulty with so many young people is they show an adaptability to too many things they become what their fellows or instructors call versatile. The versatile man sometimes is the worst handicapped man. He can do a dozen things fairly well and he spends his time between them, scattering his fire, instead of concentrating on one object, a single purpose and learning to do that in the aggregate better than he could do each of the eleven. The man who, with a bent for music, can play half a dozen instruments, is not nearly likely to play as well as the man who becomes expert in the use of that one. The versatile man is seldom more than an amateur, being kept out of the professional class simply because he has never learned to not concentrate his full powers on the one thing.

Young men and women must look out for these pitfalls. The only talent that ever accomplishes anything worth while is that trained along a certain, definite, fixed line.

Chamber Club

While it is true that the church, in the rapid evolution of the modern city has not yet adjusted herself to the new and complex condition and has not realized the possibilities presented by her problems, we still do not agree with the reckless criticism of the churches, for there is no other organization that begins to do the good done by the church, says Leslie's Weekly. And yet the church of the city does need a new vision of its opportunity, that it may supply, as it is not now doing, the manifold needs of a diversified population. A church that becomes the possession of an exclusive social set and which seeks only to minister to their refined tastes once a week, is more akin to a religious club than to a Christian church. Every church should be a people's church with wide open doors for all people, rich and poor alike.

The Hazzards of Travel

The railroads in the United States killed one passenger in every 3,532,606 they carried during the fiscal year 1908-09, and injured one in every 86,458, according to the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The total number of passengers carried was 891,472,254.

This is a little better average than that of the previous year when they killed one in every 2,823,133 and hurt one in every 77,017.

The total of the death toll exacted for the twelve months ending June 30, 1909, was 8,722 and the total injured 95,626. That makes the total casualities for the twelve month 104,343.

The major portion of the killed and injured were employees as follows: Trainmen, 1,344 killed, 29,118 injured; switch tenders, crossing tenders and watchmen, 93 killed, 507 injured; other employees, 1,173 killed, 45,381 injured.

EPISCOPALS WIN FROM METHODISTS IN FINAL CONTEST

With the shouting of hoarse fans dinning in their ears and urging them on to victory the Episcopals last night defeated the Methodists in their final game, and thereby won the championship of the Charleroi Baseball league for the season 1910. The contest was a comparatively warm one, and the supporter of both teams made themselves heard on every occasion. The dusty field made the playing difficult but several sensational plays were pulled off, in which Capt. "Willie" Kuhn of the Episcopals was the distingusning figure.

The game started as though there was going to be a warm fight on. The Episcopals first at bat scored a run on a hit and an error, then proceded to get the first three Methodist batters. Another run was tallied by the Episcopals in the second inning on two hits with two following in the next inning on four bingles. In the fifth Bege assumed the mound Pollock being sent to right field The Episcopals scored four runs this session on three hits a base on balls and a dead ball. The Methodists managed to get two around in this session on three hits and two errors, and again in the sixth scored twice, on two hits and an error. The Episcopals tallied twice in the seventh inning on a hit, and three bases on balls, and the Methodists got one around on a hit a base on balls, and an out. The score:

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples and Dandruff

We desire to say that when we took the agency for Zemo, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet, we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment of skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as Zemo has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like Zemo too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

Zemo effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroyng the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothes or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase we give a booklet on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean scientific remedy. Piper Bros., Druggists.

MATHEMATICS.

Used to Locate an Aerolite That No One Had Ever Seen.

Arithmetic, algebra and trigonometry are not romantic, but they may accomplish things which greatly impress the imagination. By means of them a professor at Yale university found a few years ago an aerolite that no one had ever seen.

It appears that a photographer in Ansonia, Conn., was occupied in taking pictures by the aid of a telescope of a comet which was invisible to the naked eye. When his negatives were developed one of them revealed the fact of a meteor. It was too small an object to attract the attention of the unaided eyes, but its line on the photograph indicated that it must have come to the earth.

The picture was shown to an astronomical professor at Yale. Ascertaining the point of observation and reckoning with the aid of the data which the photograph itself supplied, he made a calculation which proved that the meteor must have fallen in the neighborhood of a reservoir some two miles north of Danbury, Conn. There the aerolite was found in the very place indicated by the calculation. It was oval in form, measured fifteen and a half inches in length, seven and a half inches in diameter and weighed twenty-six pounds. It was sent to the museum of Yale university, where it serves not only as an illustration of the nature of the vagrant bodies of the skies, but testifies also to the wonders of calculation which it is possible for mathematical science to accomplish.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DROPPING ASLEEP.

The Way Mother Nature Charms Away Our Consciousness.

How do we go to sleep? How does Mother Nature charm away our consciousness? First of all she throws her spell on those centers of our bodies that preside over the muscular system, causing one group of muscles after another gradually to collapse. Thereafter various powers of mind succumb in regular order. First we lose attention and judgment, then memory goes, and imagination wanders away in reveries of its own. Ideas of time and space cease to control thought as gentle sleep, the nurse of our life, draws nearer. Then comes the turn of the special senses, beginning with sight. Eyelids close, and eyeballs turn upward and inward, as if to shut out all light, the pupils contracting more and more as slumber steals over us.

The turn of the ears comes; the power of hearing fades away. The heart beats and breath is drawn more and more slowly. The heart beats from ten to twenty times less frequently each minute, or 5,000 times less during the night, while breathing is not only slower but much more shallow than during waking hours. Temperature falls by perhaps 2 degrees, and the body loses three times less heat than when awake. And so at last sleep covers a man all over—sleep that shuts up sorrow's eye.—London Express.

"You have it," responded the theatrical manager heartily. "Why, almost every one of my plays opens with a girl dusting everything in sight."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Precaution.

"Don't you think that Kay is perfectly reckless in the way she gets divorces?"

"Oh, no!" replied the second actress, dabbing on a little more paint. "She never gets a divorce from one husband until she has another under contract."—Philadelphia Ledger.

STAGECOACH ROBBERS.

How the Express Companies Dealt With Old Time Highwaymen.

It was the treasure box of the Wells-Fargo company which transported practically all the gold and silver from the mining camps that was the special object of the old time stagecoach highwayman. A shrewd band of robbers would not hold up a stage unless they had good reason to think it carried a large shipment of gold, and they used every means to find out when these shipments would be made. The company, on the other hand, tried to deceive and trap them, and there was a war of wits as well as weapons. A favorite method of the company when their stages had been repeatedly robbed by some band whose success showed they had inside information as to the time of shipment was to let a rumor leak out that on a certain day a large amount of gold dust would be secretly sent out by special stage. This, of course, would reach the ears of some of the band and a robbery be duly organized. A spy would see a number of heavy boxes placed aboard and report all well. When the highwaymen halted the stage the driver and guard would meekly give up and crawl to the ground. Then just when the bands had grown careless from easy success there poured from the loopholed coach a deadly fire that at such short range wiped out the entire gang at the first volley, for the coach was a decoy, filled not with gold, but with men expert with the rifle. In 1866 three bands were thus blown to perdition on the old stage line between Virginia City, Nev., and Sacramento.—Washington Post.

ODD JOBS ON WARSHIPS.

Many Ways For the Bluejackets to Make Extra Money.

The possible methods of making extra money on shipboard are manifold. "Tailorizing" is one of the most profitable. While a ship's tailor is detailed to most of our ships, his duties are limited to making necessary alterations in the uniforms which are issued to the members of the crew. Many enlisted men own sewing machines, upon which they do repair work, and they also do odd jobs for officers, such as pressing and cleaning. A handy man with the needle can also make a handsome sum by doing fancy work. Some of the most delicate embroidery work has been done by sailormen.

The ship's barber also makes a comfortable living in addition to his regular pay, and the distribution of prizes at target practice enriches the coffers of the gun crew by a considerable sum. Men who are detailed to duty on board submarine boats are allowed an additional $5 a month and besides $1 a day for every day the boat is submerged. Bluejackets detailed as signalmen, as cockswains of powerboats or in charge of holds are allowed extra pay. A crew messman receives $5 a month for performing that somewhat menial function, and the man who is not ashamed to "take in washing" can easily double his navy pay. Every bluejacket is expected to perform the laundering himself, but there are always men who prefer to pay for having the service done.

One of the novel methods of earning an honest penny is for a man with a descriptive knack usually a yeoman to prepare an interesting letter upon the cruise of the ship or some of the strange ports visited, the honors paid the vessel, the entertainments offered and describing the customs of the inhabitants. These letters are manifolded and sold to the members of the crew for 50 cents to $1 a copy—and usually cheap at that. The parents or relatives of the sailor boy thus are kept informed of his adventures and experiences and he is relieved of a task that is irksome to most boys.—John R. Cox in National Magazine.

WOMEN'S WOES

Charleroi Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidney and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. William Stopp, 214 Second street, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on or five years and consider them to be unequaled for kidney disease. I suffered for some time from backache and was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were scanty and often contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and procuring a box at Piper Bros.' Drug Store, began their use. They benefited me greatly and I have since kept a supply on hand."

notable compositions. When Mr. Herbert came to Pittsburg a few years ago with the forces presenting his operas, "The Rose of Algeria" and "Old Dutch," he was animated by the spirit of the artist who wants to assure himself that his work will be presented correctly in every detail. The reception of those works left no doubt of [illegible] and the [illegible] will be heard for ten days, beginning Sept. 7, in a series of classical concerts. Sousa and his band of sixty players will be heard September 19 and 24, inclusive. The indefatigable Sousa will have much that is new to offer, to say nothing of his compositions which have won him fame in every musical center in the world. Innes and his orchestral band will make their first appearance at the Exposition in nearly ten years, September 26, remaining until October 1. The Innes band has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the classics [illegible] and the name of Innes is to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art. Other well known musical organizations will be announced later, the aim of the management being to provide the greatest in the history of the Exposition.

Things that are new and novel will [illegible] this year. The electrical and mechanical features will be a source of amazement, for in those features will be displayed the latest inventions of the master minds of genius. The newest creations in ponderous machinery and wondrous electrical effects will be seen at hand, evidencing the remarkable progress of the times.

The government exhibit will be a new feature, showing how it handles its great mailing system. This will be unusually attractive as no details will be overlooked in its presentation. The material for this display will fill a car. It is being packed in Washington and will be shipped to Pittsburg about the 10th of August.

The Great Northern railroad will have an exhibit here for the first time, showing the methods of irrigation and the products of the country through which the line runs. An added attraction to this exhibit is the fact that the Great Northern railroad is the realization of the ambition of James J. Hill, one of the greatest railroad men of the world. The Norfolk and Western railroad, which attracted so much attention last year will return this season with an exhibit showing what scientific farming has done for the state of Virginia. Novelties of every description will prevail throughout the buildings and there will be something new and interesting to arrest the attention at every hand.

The hippodrome will have a spectacular show and there will be innumerable amusements to please both young and old, all contributing to the enjoyment of visitors.

PITTSBURG EXPO OPENS AUGUST 31

Fine Music; Added Amusements; New and Novel Exhibits

When the doors of the Exposition are thrown open to the public on August 31, the twenty-second annual season of Pittsburg's great industrial show, the only permanent institution of its kind in the United States, will have begun, and from that time on until October 22 thousands of people from all points of the compass within a radius of 150 miles will flock to this famous temple of education and amusement.

No place of entertainment has appealed so effectively to the public as has the Pittsburg Exposition, which has been a triumphant success for the past twenty-one years. Its features cover a wide field of instruction and amusement and the show this season promises to eclipse the efforts of the past not only in the number of exhibits but in new and attractive novelties. Time passes rapidly and there are no moments being wasted in idleness at the Exposition. The buildings are being re-embellished, painters and decorators are at work and the scenes at the Point resemble a veritable hive of industry.

Music will be one of the great attractions at the Exposition this year and judging from the bands and orchestras already announced lovers of high class melody have a series of brilliant concerts to look forward to. Victor Herbert and his orchestra will open the Exposition on August 31, appearing for a limited engagement of only one week. Mr. Herbert, who won fame as a conductor-composer, has not been here in a long time and as it was in Pittsburg that he built up his orchestra which became celebrated throughout the country his appearance is a matter of more than passing interest. It was here that he composed his noble symphonic poem "Hero and Leander," and other

First Omnibus.

"Omnibus" was an almost brand new word in its modern sense when Shillibeer took it from the French in 1829, and in France the name possessed a special significance for those who knew their history, for from 1672 to 1676 Paris had already seen a regular service of roomy public vehicles, "carosses a cinq sous." Only these predecessors of the modern bus were not "omnibus"—for all. The letters patent which instituted them for the benefit of middle class people laid down that they were not to be used by soldiers, lackeys or any other wearers of livery or artisans and laborers. These exclusive vehicles faded out of existence, and the new ones, which were started in Paris in 1828, were named "omnibus" expressly to signify their democratic character.—London Chronicle.

A Spa's Curious Origin.

The discovery of the famous Woodhall spa in Lincolnshire was very curious. Just about a hundred years ago a shaft was sunk in search of coal, but the effort had to be abandoned owing to a rush of water. In time the water found its way into a small brook, and in due course the inhabitants began to speak of the curative powers of the stream. Science investigated the mystery and discovered that the water in the coalless shaft was richly impregnated with various salts and bromine and iodine. Geologists expressed the interesting opinion that ages ago the place was the sandy bed of a shallow lagoon or bay of a tropical sea where seaweeds of giant growth abounded. A mighty convulsion of nature lowered the sea bed, a great river flowed over the place, and in time its debris was formed into a mass of spongy rock or sandstone. Forcing itself through this mass at great pressure some 680 feet below the ground, the water now extracts the constituents of the original seaweed.—London Family Herald.

Opposites.

Upgardson—Isn't a lawsuit over a patent right about the dullest thing you ever saw?

Atom—Not always. I attended a trial of that kind once that was too funny for anything. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6,000 word document he called a brief.—Chicago Tribune.

Spelling.

On a member of parliament being accused of bad spelling Disraeli humorously defended him by declaring that "a man must be an idiot who could not spell a word more ways than one."

Among all other vices there is none I hate more than cruelty, the extremest of all vices.—Montaigne.

A communication was read from Supt A. G. Mitchell of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad to the effect that radical changes are contemplated in the passenger depot at Charleroi and that to install toilet accommodations in the present station as requested by council would only be to incur needless expense.

Three members of the school board Dr. T. M. Faddis, George B. Nealon and Ira L Nickeson were present and with Harvey Parsons representing his father ex Tax Collector B. L. Parsons took up jointly with council the 1907 tax exoneration list.

WATER COMPANY FINDS IT IS LOSING WATER

The Monessen Water Co., has lately been conducting a series of experiments or tests at night to ascertain if the excessive consumption of water was occurring in any one district of the town. It was found that during the night hours from midnight to 5 o'clock in the morning the town was using water at a rate in excess of one million gallons per 24 hours. During these hours the consumption should be very light and it was thought for a time that a leak existed in some part of the pipe system. As a result a general inspection of the pipe system has been ordered.

ROAD BONDS NOT WANTED

Poor Outlook for the Disposal of County's Last Issue.

The outlook for the disposal of Washington county's issue of $100,000 4 per cent road improvement bonds is decidedly poor. After the issue had been offered to all the bonding companies of the county, with no takers, the plan of sale to individuals was decided upon. Circulars were sent out on June 23 to about 700 monied men of the county, the bonds being offered singly or collectively, but only two inquiries were received. The bonds are in the denomination of $1,000.

A state law fixes the interest of road bonds at 4 per cent and subject to state tax, making the interest to the investor 36 per cent. There is no fixed rate of interest in other bonds.

Unless the road bonds are disposed of by January the issue will be invalid. This will practically tie up further road improvement for another year, as the law requires that the money must be in sight before any contracts are let.

The present road improvements are being carried on with the fund created by the halfmill of road tax levied. The fund will be sufficient to complete the work on hand.

EPISCOPALS CHAMPIONS OF LEAGUE

Win Final Game With Methodists and Cinch Pennant.

MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

By winning their last regular game last night from the Methodists the Episcopals established themselves in first place, and are the pennant winners of the Charleroi Church Baseball league with the Catholic standing second, and the Christians third. There is a protested game to be decided yet between the Lutherans and the Episcopals to be acted upon shortly by the commission and it may have to be played off, but whatever the result may be it cannot effect the standing of the first three clubs.

The position of the five teams now occupy fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth positions is still undecided. The Lutherans and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians have a game to play Monday, and it can mean two things. If the Lutherans win, they will be tied with the Methodists for third place, and the Washington Avenues will be tied with the Baptists and First Presbyterians for sixth place. If the Washington Avenues win it will tie them and the Lutherans for fifth place. The Baptists and the First Presbyterians are at present tied for seventh place, with both having finished the scheduled season.

President Jesse K. Johnston of the league this morning in reviewing the conditions of the league said that he thought it had been very successful, and while some mistakes have been made, they may be profited by managing for the next season. President Johnston said he did not care to again be president of the league.

A meeting of the managers has been called for Tuesday evening, it is expected at the Charleroi Savings and Trust company. At this time will be taken up the report of the treasurer, and whatever other business might come up.

Must Put Signal Lights on Bridge

Piers of Elizabeth Bridge Must be Equipped With Lanterns.

New signal lights have been put on the river bridge at Elizabeth. The regulations of the War Department require that red lights be displayed on piers and a green light over the middle of the channel span at night. Heretofore this has been done by one such light over each required place, these being set high above the bridge floor, so they could be seen ascending and descending the river. New orders required that two sets be displayed, on the upstream and down stream side respectively, and this has been done the lights being at the level of the bridge floor. They are of incandescent electric lights, shinning through glass of the required colors.

Choosing Ones Work

This matter of choosing one's life work is one of the severest tasks a person has to meet says the Omaha Bee. Many men do not find their spheres of greatest usefulness until middle age, while others never find them. Education ought to help one to find his true sphere. The great difficulty with so many young people is they show an adaptability to too many things they become what their fellows or instructors call versatile. The versatile man sometimes is the worst handicapped man. He can do a dozen things fairly well and he spends his time between them, scattering his fire, instead of concentrating on one object, a single purpose and learning to do that in the aggregate better than he could do each of the eleven. The man who, with a bent for music, can play half a dozen instruments, is not nearly likely to play as well as the man who becomes expert in the use of that one. The versatile man is seldom more than an amateur, being kept out of the professional class simply because he has never learned to not concentrate his full powers on the one thing.

Young men and women must look out for these pitfalls. The only talent that ever accomplishes anything worth while is that trained along a certain, definite, fixed line.

Church Club

While it is true that the church, in the rapid evolution of the modern city has not yet adjusted herself to the new and complex condition and has not met all the possibilities presented by her problems we still do not agree with the reckless criticism of the churches, for there is no other organization that begins to do the good done by the church, says Leslie's Weekly. And yet the church of the city does need a new vision of its opportunity, that it may supply, as it is not now doing, the manifold needs of a diversified population. A church that becomes the possession of an exclusive social set and which seeks only to minister to their refined tastes once a week, is more akin to a religious club than to a Christian church. Every church should be a people's church with wide open doors for all people, rich and poor, alike.

The Hazzards of Travel

The railroads in the United States killed one passenger in every 3 532,606 they carried during the fiscal year 1908-09, and injured one in every 86.458, according to the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The total number of passengers carried was 891,472,254.

This is a little better average than that of the previous year when they killed one in every 2,823,133 and hurt one in every 77,017.

The total of the death toll exacted for the year ending June 30, 1909, was 8,722 and the total injured 95,626. That makes the total casualities for the twelve month 104,348.

The major portion of the killed and injured were employees as follows: Trainmen, 1,344 killed, 29,118 injured; switch tenders, crossing tenders and watchmen, 93 killed, 507 injured; other employees, 1,173 killed, 45,381 injured.

EPISCOPALS WIN FROM METHODISTS IN FINAL CONTEST

With the shouting of hoarse fans dinning in their ears and urging them on to victory the Episcopals last night defeated the Methodists in their final game, and thereby won the championship of the Charleroi Baseball league for the season 1910. The contest was a comparatively warm one, and the supporter of both teams made themselves heard on every occasion. The dusty field made the playing difficult but several sensational plays were pulled off, in which Capt. "Willie" Kuhn of the Episcopals was the distingusning figure.

The game started as though there was going to be a warm fight on. The Episcopals first at bat scored a run on a hit and an error, then proceded to get the first three Methodist batters. Another run was tallied by the Episcopals in the second inning on two hits with two following in the next inning on four bingles. In the fifth Bege assumed the mound Pollock being sent to right field The Episcopals scored four runs this session on three hits a base on balls and a dead ball. The Methodists managed to get two around in this session on three hits and two errors, and again in the sixth scored twice, on two hits and an error. The Episcopals tallied twice in the seventh inning on a hit, and three bases on balls, and the Methodists got one around on a hit a base on balls, and an out. The score:

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples and Dandruff

We desire to say that when we took the agency for Zemo, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet, we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment of skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as Zemo has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like Zemo too, because it is a clear vegetable liquid for external use.

Zemo effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroyng the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healtny. It does not soil the clothes or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase we give a booklet on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean scientific remedy. Piper Bros., Druggists.

MATHEMATICS.

Used to Locate an Aerolite That No One Had Ever Seen.

Arithmetic, algebra and trigonometry are not romantic, but they may accomplish things which greatly impress the imagination By means of them a professor at Yale university found a few years ago an aerolite that no one had ever seen

It appears that a photographer in Ansonia, Conn., was occupied in taking pictures by the aid of a telescope of a comet which was invisible to the naked eye. When his negatives were developed one of them revealed the fact of a meteor It was too small an object to attract the attention of the unaided eyes, but its line on the photograph indicated that it must have come to the earth

The picture was shown to an astronomical professor at Yale Ascertaining the point of observation and reckoning with the aid of the data which the photograph itself supplied, he made a calculation which proved that the meteor must have fallen in the neighborhood of a reservoir some two miles north of Danbury, Conn. There the aerolite was found in the very place indicated by the calculation It was oval in form measured fifteen and a half inches in length, seven and a half inches in diameter and weighed twenty-six pounds. It was sent to the museum of Yale university, where it serves not only as an illustration of the nature of the vagrant bodies of the skies, but testifies also to the wonders of calculation which it is possible for mathematical science to accomplish.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DROPPING ASLEEP.

The Way Mother Nature Charms Away Our Consciousness.

How do we go to sleep? How does Mother Nature charm away our consciousness? First of all she throws her spell on those centers of our bodies that preside over the muscular system, causing one group of muscles after another gradually to collapse Thereafter various powers of mind succumb in regular order First we lose attention and judgment, then memory goes, and imagination wanders away in reveries of its own Ideas of time and space cease to control thought as gentle sleep, the nurse of our life, draws nearer Then comes the turn of the special senses, beginning with sight Eyelids close, and eyeballs turn upward and inward, as if to shut out all light, the pupils contracting more and more as slumber steals over us.

The turn of the ears comes; the power of hearing fades away. The heart beats and breath is drawn more and more slowly. The heart beats from ten to twenty times less frequently each minute, or 5,000 times less during the night, while breathing is not only slower but much more shallow than during waking hours Temperature falls by perhaps 2 degrees, and the body loses three times less heat than when awake. And so at last sleep covers a man all over—sleep that shuts up sorrow's eye.—London Express

STAGECOACH ROBBERS.

How the Express Companies Dealt With Old Time Highwaymen.

It was the treasure box of the Wells-Fargo company which transported practically all the gold and silver from the mining camps that was the special object of the old time stagecoach highwayman. A shrewd band of robbers would not hold up a stage unless they had good reason to think it carried a large shipment of gold, and they used every means to find out when these shipments would be made The company, on the other hand, tried to deceive and trap them, and there was a war of wits as well as weapons. A favorite method of the company when their stages had been repeatedly robbed by some band whose success showed they had inside information as to the time of shipment was to let a rumor leak out that on a certain day a large amount of gold dust would be secretly sent out by special stage. This, of course, would reach the ears of some of the band and a robbery be duly organized A spy would see a number of heavy boxes placed aboard and report all well When the highwaymen halted the stage the driver and guard would meekly give up and crawl to the ground Then just when [illegible] easy success there poured from the loopholed coach a deadly fire that at such short range wiped out the entire gang at the first volley, for the coach was a decoy, filled not with gold, but with men expert with the rifle. In 1866 three bands were thus blown to perdition on the old stage line between Virginia City, Nev., and Sacramento.—Washington Post.

GOOD JOBS ON WARSHIPS.

Many Ways For the Bluejackets to Make Extra Money.

The possible methods of making extra money on shipboard are manifold. "Tailorizing" is one of the most profitable. While a ship's tailor is detailed to most of our ships his duties are limited to making necessary alterations in the uniforms which are issued to the members of the crew Many enlisted men own sewing machines upon which they do repair work, and they also do odd jobs for others, such as pressing and cleaning A handy man with the needle can also make a handsome sum by doing fancy work Some of the most delicate embroidery work has been done by sailormen

The ship's barber also makes a comfortable living in addition to his regular pay, and the distribution of prizes at target practice enriches the coffers of the gun crew by a considerable sum Men who are detailed to duty on board submarine boats are allowed an additional $5 a month and besides $1 a day for every day the boat is submerged Bluejackets detailed as signalmen, as cockswains of power boats or in charge of holds are allowed extra pay A crew messman receives $5 a month for performing that somewhat menial function, and the man who is not ashamed to "take in washing" can easily double his navy pay Every bluejacket is expected to perform the laundering himself but there are always men who prefer to pay for having the service done

One of the novel methods of earning an honest penny is for a man with a descriptive knack usually a yeoman to prepare an interesting letter about the cruise of the ship or some of the strange ports visited, the honors paid the vessel, the entertainments offered and describing the customs of the inhabitants. These letters are mimeographed and sold to the members of the crew for 50 cents to $1 a copy—and usually cheap at that The parents or relatives of the sailor boy thus are kept informed of his adventures and experiences and he is relieved of a task that is irksome to most boys.—John R. Coy in National Magazine

Charleroi Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidney and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. William Stopp, 214 Second street, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for five years and consider them to be unequaled for kidney disease. I suffered for some time from backache and was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were scanty and often contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and procuring a box at Piper Bros.' Drug Store, began their use. They benefited me greatly and I have since kept a supply on hand."

notable compositions. When Mr. Herbert came to Pittsburg a few years ago with the forces presenting his operas, "The Rose of Algeria" and "Old Dutch," he was animated by the spirit of the artist who wants to assure himself that his work will be presented correctly in every detail. The indefatigable Sousa will have much that is new to offer, to say nothing of his compositions which have won him fame in every musical center in the world. Innes and his orchestral band will make their first appearance at the Exposition in nearly ten years, [illegible] number 1. The Innes band has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. The material for this display will fill a car. It is being packed in Washington and will be shipped to Pittsburg about the 10th of August.

The Great Northern railroad will have an exhibit here for the first time, showing the methods of irrigation and the products of the country through which the line runs. An added attraction to this exhibit is the fact that the Great Northern railroad is the realization of the ambition of James J. Hill, one of the greatest railroad men of the world. The Norfolk and Western railroad, which attracted so much attention last year will return this season with an exhibit showing what scientific farming has done for the state of Virginia. Novelties of every description will prevail throughout the buildings and there will be something new and interesting to arrest the attention at every hand.

The hippodrome will have a spectacular show and there will be innumerable amusements to please boys and girls, all contributing to the enjoyment of visitors.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

PITTSBURG EXPO OPENS AUGUST 31

Fine Music; Added Amusements; New and Novel Exhibits

When the doors of the Exposition are thrown open to the public on August 31, the twenty-second annual season of Pittsburg's great industrial show, the only permanent institution of its kind in the United States, will have begun, and from that time on until October 22 thousands of people from all points of the compass within a radius of 150 miles will flock to this famous temple of education and amusement.

No place of entertainment has appealed so effectively to the public as has the Pittsburg Exposition, which has been a triumphant success for the past twenty-one years. Its features cover a wide field of instruction and amusement and the show this season promises to eclipse the efforts of the past not only in the number of exhibits but in new and attractive novelties. Time passes rapidly and there are no moments being wasted in idleness at the Exposition. The buildings are being re-embellished, painters and decorators are at work and the scenes at the Point resemble a veritable hive of industry.

Music will be one of the great attractions at the Exposition this year and judging from the bands and orchestras already announced lovers of high class melody have a series of brilliant concerts to look forward to. Victor Herbert and his orchestra will open the Exposition on August 31, appearing for a limited engagement of only one week. Mr. Herbert, who won fame as a conductor-composer, has not been here in a long time and as it was in Pittsburg that he built up his orchestra which became celebrated throughout the country his appearance is a matter of more than passing interest. It was here that he composed his noble symphonic poem "Hero and Leander," and other

First Omnibus.

"Omnibus" was an almost brand new word in its modern sense when Shillibeer took it from the French in 1829, and in France the name possessed a special significance for those who knew their history, for from 1672 to 1676 Paris had already seen a regular service of roomy public vehicles, "carosses a cinq sous." Only these predecessors of the modern bus were not "omnibus"—for all. The letters patent which instituted them for the benefit of middle class people laid down that they were not to be used by soldiers, lackeys or any other wearers of livery or artisans and laborers. These exclusive vehicles faded out of existence, and the new ones, which were started in Paris in 1828, were named "omnibus" expressly to signify their democratic character.—London Chronicle.

A Spa's Curious Origin.

The discovery of the famous Woodhall spa in Lincolnshire was very curious. Just about a hundred years ago a shaft was sunk in search of coal, but the effort had to be abandoned owing to a rush of water. In time the water found its way into a small brook, and in due course the inhabitants began to speak of the curative powers of the stream. Science investigated the mystery and discovered that the water in the coalless shaft was richly impregnated with various salts and bromine and iodine. Geologists expressed the interesting opinion that ages ago the place was the sandy bed of a shallow lagoon or bay of a tropical sea where seaweeds of giant growth abounded. A mighty convulsion of nature lowered the sea bed, a great river flowed over the place, and in time its debris was formed into a mass of spongy rock or sandstone. Forcing itself through this mass at great pressure some 600 feet below the ground, the water now extracts the constituents of the original seaweed.—London Family Herald.

Opposites.

Upjardson—Isn't a lawsuit over a patent right about the dullest thing you ever saw?

Afom—Not always. I attended a trial of that kind once that was too funny for anything. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6,000 word document he called a brief.—Chicago Tribune.

Spelling.

On a member of parliament being accused of bad spelling Disraeli humorously defended him by declaring that "a man must be an idiot who could not spell a word more ways than one."

Among all other vices there is none I hate more than cruelty, the extremest of all vices.—Montaigne.
